Brexit – Rationality and Considered Decisions Needed to Restore Business Confidence

The Malta Chamber unwillingly acknowledges the result of the British vote for a Brexit. This is certainly a defining moment in the history of the United Kingdom and the European Union – a development that has been described as being of “seismic” proportions.

This morning, the European Union has received a wake-up call from the British people. The EU must ensure that it seriously takes into account this message for change.

The Brexit earthquake is certainly creating much dust and uncertainty in the markets, as investors, entrepreneurs, traders and workers attempt to seek answers and renewed confidence. This historical development calls for rationality and sound decision making, restore stability and confidence in the shortest possible time. Historical experience shows that in amongst the threats and negative repercussions of significant events, there will always emerge some opportunity which Malta and our business community must seek to pursue.

The Malta Chamber represents locally-based entrepreneurs that are optimists by nature. In this vein, therefore, the Chamber is hopeful that trade between Malta and the UK will always find a way through and that the Maltese business community will prevail over this development – as momentous as it may seem on this significant day in economic and political history.
