Chamber reiterates offer to provide constructive and objective support

The Malta Chamber of Commerce, Enterprise and Industry wishes to once again offer its constructive and objective support to Government, on behalf of the vast majority of Malta's employers, at this trying time.

The extraordinary times we are living can be considered completely uncharted territory, which every Government around the world is navigating with a degree of uncertainty. Within this context, the Malta Chamber reiterates its offer to assist Government in a bid to ensure misunderstandings and uncertainty remain to an absolute minimum.

Recent instances of changes to instructions and incomplete clarity by Government have created unnecessary uncertainty. The Chamber believes that sound consultation with all relevant parties involved, prior to decision taking, can save time, remove confusion and avoid frustration for all

The Malta Chamber has received hundreds of communications from the business community voicing concern and asking for clarity on what was being communicated by Government. The few inconsistencies experienced lately are not only harming businesses, which at this time are facing the most trying moments of their existence, but are also bringing about an unnecessary level of uncertainty we could all do without as a country.

As the Chamber has always done, it remains available to consult and offer its constructive and objective opinions.
