GasamMamo Insurance reconfirms its partnership with The Malta Chamber of Commerce

For the third consecutive year, GasamMamo Insurance will partner with The Malta Chamber of Commerce to champion the Chamber's Education Committee's objective in developing policy in key areas related to upskilling, talent, and education. The insurance company will be supporting The Malta Chamber Education Committee in conducting research and making the required representations about the educational requirements of both the business community and the country in general.

"There is really no way to underestimate the importance of education in employment. Upskilling and reskilling talent is a key component of long-term growth and organizational change," said Marisa Xuereb, President of The Malta Chamber. "We are honoured to be once again collaborating with GasamMamo Insurance. Through this partnership, we aim to be better prepared in influencing policy to ensure that the business community can tackle emerging challenges, adapt to market changes while nurturing emerging talent," noted Xuereb.

"We are delighted to renew our support as Bronze sponsors. We see The Malta Chamber as Malta's leading constituted body which enjoys an excellent reputation as a widely respected social partner, that has a crucial role to play in discussions on matters that impact Malta's society and economy," said Julian J Mamo, Managing Director of GasamMamo Insurance. "We have a long-established reputation of operating in ways that make a positive social impact," he added.

The Bronze Collaboration Agreement was signed by Ms Marisa Xuereb and Mr Christopher Vassallo Cesareo as President and Deputy President of The Malta Chamber, respectively, and Mr Julian J Mamo, Managing Director for GasamMamo Insurance.
